The purpose of my media campaign is to rise awareness and educate those who wish to find out more than they are simply being fed by all news media.

Focusing on events that have in one way or another affected me and my country, and our closest neighbors Ukraine who happen to be like brothers to all Russians. Throughout the last year and a half I have witnessed a new form of modern warfare, with a weapon possibly more powerful than a nuclear bomb - mass media. Having the knowledge of multiple languages, I became very interested on the various ways and tools each side of conflict uses to achieve political gain. Witnessing how media became the dictator of foreign policies troubles me. If we don't know who to trust in terms of information, what can we rely on to make or decisions and judgements?
